Systemic Change in Ministry

by Sr. Julie Cutter

In response to the call of the International Vincentian Family to promote Systemic Change in Ministry, the International Commission on Systemic Change offered a training workshop Nov. 4-7, 2010, at Our Lady of the Snows Retreat Center in Belleville, Ill.

Elected leadership and designated trainers from throughout the USA and Canada gathered. The 114 participants included Ladies of Charity, Sisters of Charity, Daughters of Charity, Congregation of the Mission, Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Missionary Cenacle, Vincentian Marian Youth, Gateway Vincentian Volunteers, Vincentian Service Corps, Vincentian Universities, DePaul USA, College of Mount St. Joseph, and Austin Vincentian Small Christian Communities.

Participants studied "Seeds of Hope" to prepare themselves to train others in their regions, branches, and ministries in the promotion of systemic change. Ten workshops describe Vincentian Family efforts at systemic change in the United States and Canada. Fr. John Freund offered a technical workshop and entertainment from www.famvin.org.

Spiritual Reflection on Gratitude...

by Susan Robinson, Affiliate

As I reflect upon the gifts of a glorious summer now yielding to the quiet beauty of autumn, I am reminded of the importance of gratitude in our lives.

I spend a lot of time in the garden relishing the simplicity and surprises that await each new day. Perennials...hostas, daylilies, coneflowers, lavender and so many other favorites returning faithfully from winter's sleep. Then, an explosion of roses with zinnias and sunflowers bursting from seeds trustingly planted in the spring. As with most gardeners, I dearly love the birds and delight in my daily parade of yellow finches, cardinals, morning doves, sparrows, woodpeckers and hummingbirds flocking to the feeders.

I think that for me the garden is a sacred place, where in the silence I encounter God. But, there are countless graced experiences in our daily lives in which God is so very present and, perhaps, just waiting to take our breath away; precious moments for us to pause and reflect in joy and gratitude. Let us pray for constant awareness of God's goodness and a deepening sense of appreciation for all that we receive.

Celebrate the Centennial St. Louis Province 1910-2010—Part 2

by Sr. Julie Cutter and Sr. Rosa Lee Kramer

SETON HOSPITAL IN AUSTIN

In the late 1800s in Austin, Texas, a charitable association of Catholic women, under the patronage of St. Vincent de Paul, organized an aid society to take care of the poor and to see that Catholic patients in the city hospital did not die without the Sacraments. These women collected $5,300 hundred dollars to purchase a block of land in the northern end of the city and deed it to the Daughters of Charity in Emmitsburg, Md., for a hospital. Catholic and non-Catholic citizens subscribed in equal proportion. A cornerstone was laid in 1901 for the Seton Infirmary. Among the Sisters who came to staff the hospital was a Spanish-speaking Sister, the daughter of the Ambassador to the U.S. from Bogotá, Colombia, sent to assess the needs of the Mexican population of Austin. A Spanish-speaking priest, Rev. P.J. O'Reilley, CSC, came to Seton as a patient and he agreed to organize the parish of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

In 1937, three Daughters began to teach 24 students at St. Joseph School in White Church in the missionary diocese of Springfield-Cape Girardeau, Mo. Ministries in West Plains, Carthage, Willow Springs and Cape Girardeau included schools, parish ministry, home health, Vietnamese resettlement, religious education and a discernment house. In 1974, the Bishop requested Daughters in Springfield to work in education and diocesan offices and, later, the Sisters moved into parish and campus ministries. After 73 years of service and collaboration, the Daughters withdrew from the diocese.

NOTRE DAME SCHOOLS IN PRICE, UTAH

Seventeen years after its formation in 1910, the Western Province of St. Louis opened a school in Price, Utah, in 1927. By 1957, a high school was added. Sister Mary Angelyn Pera comments on the unique ministries in the predominantly Mormon society, "As a minority, the Sisters and lay collaborators developed a missionary spirit." She recalls that they raised the schools to standards that merited national accreditation.

Walk for the Poor Evansville, IND.

Thirteen Daughters of Charity joined the St. Vincent de Paul Visibility Walk for the Poor on Saturday, October 2, 2010, in Evansville. The Daughters were honored to pose with St. Vincent de Paul (Vince Brenner) before the walk began.

Former Daughters of Charity

by Mary Nell Williams, Affiliate

Mary Nell Williams, Sr. Maureen Schmalzried, DC (liaison, EC), Carol Swink, Rita Ehrle, Bobbie Laker, Marian Bauer, Sr. Rose Ann Aguilar, DC (liaison, WC), Sr. Martha Garcia, DC (retreat director, W), Fran Kirn, Madelynn Kester

Following reunions of former Daughters of Charity at Mater Dei in 1985 and at Marillac Provincial House in 1987, those attending a retreat in 1989 requested the West Central Provincial Council to recognize the Former Daughters of Charity as a formal group. This request was approved by Sr. Nannette Gentile, Visitatrix. Marilyn McGuire, St. Louis, volunteered to be the first facilitator. Sister Dianne Starnes, DC, was designated as the first liaison. The group decided on three objectives for the organization: to identify ways to serve the poor in our lives, a deepening of Vincentian Spirituality, and a desire to maintain a mutual support system between the Daughters and the Former Daughters of Charity. Susan Scannell, West Central Administrative Assistant, was assigned to our organization as pure "gift". Since 1989 to the present, she has been the central and key person who has kept our organization together. She has provided administrative support in terms of all forms of communication, including a membership list and a group email list, ensuring immediate communication regarding prayer requests and notices of deaths of the Daughters from both West Central and East Central Provinces.

Currently, Mary Nell Williams, East Central, and Marian Bauer, West Central, serve as co-facilitators. Sister Maureen Schmalzried, East Central, and Sister Rose Ann Aguilar, West Central, serve as liaisons. Susan Scannell continues to provide administrative support for all activities, including our annual Day of Prayer in St. Louis and our annual retreats. Glenda Gorman, East Central, assists with the facility arrangements for annual retreats that have been held each fall at Mater Dei, since the old Marillac Provincial House closed. Our membership is open to any former Daughters of Charity, regardless of their past or current geographic locations.

The Lives of Affiliates Patti and Jack Gullahorn

The lives of Affiliates Patti and Jack Gullahorn seem to have been entwined with children and the Daughters in a lot of ways for a long time. Patti and Jack, who will be celebrating 39 years of marriage in December, didn't know a lot about the Daughters of Charity when their third son, Daniel, was born prematurely 33 years ago. But, their exposure to Seton Hospital and the charisms of the Daughters during the time Daniel spent in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit was a life changer for both of them. Before Daniel was sent home three months later, Patti and Jack were already out on the speaking tour for Seton and the Daughters, and the gift of the love of the Daughters and the mission of the Vincentians has grown in them ever since.

Today, as parents of four and grandparents of seven, the Gullahorns see the opportunity to serve as Vincentians in the spirit of the Daughters in several ways. They have been active in their Parish home, St. Austin Catholic Parish, since 1971, and St. Austin School, where their children were educated and two of their grandchildren now attend.

Jack serves as Vice Chair of the Board of the Seton Health Care Network and he and Patti have been active members of the St. Austin Conference of The Society of St. Vincent de Paul for 15 years. Patti has served in several roles with Seton and was a charter member of the Seton Development Board. Their ministry and passion for children, however, shows most prominently in their work and support for St. Louise House (SLH), an Austin Vincentian based charity that provides life-changing opportunities for homeless mothers and their children.

St. Louise House, in large part because of the support and prayers of the Daughters, has grown to be the owners of two, 24-unit apartment complexes in south Austin. Jack formerly served as chair of the Board of SLH and now serves on the Board (along with two Daughters), to help fill its mission of care for those that are the most vulnerable. He and Patti are big proponents of the mission of SLH and believe the work of that organization truly epitomizes the spirit of the Daughters, St. Vincent and St. Louise.

An alumni of St. Louise House put it this way,

"When my son and I moved in and I realized the door that had just closed behind me actually locked, I breathed freely for the first time in almost a year. I knew that I had finally found a home. Throughout the months I have been here, the office staff has become a family to me. When things are good, they cheer me on. When things go wrong, they help me figure out how to fix it. Thanks to Saint Louise House, I know that when the time comes for me to move on, I can do so with confidence and self-respect. Saint Louise House offers women in my position a chance to become the women they were always meant to be, and gives their children a chance to thrive in a safe, loving environment."

That, say the Gullahorns, is what being a Vincentian and an Affiliate of the Daughters is all about. To them, their service is an honor and a blessing, not a duty or obligation. And their journey to this point in life would not have been the same, if it were not for that intercession of the Daughters of Charity some 33 years ago. NEW AFFILIATE NAMED—Mrs. Jane Schieffer

On Sunday, September 26, 2010, the Daughters of Charity from St. Mary Residence in Milwaukee welcomed our newest Affiliate, Mrs. Jane Schieffer, Milwaukee, Wis. Jane was formally accepted as an Affiliate at a prayer service held in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception at the Columbia-St. Mary's Hospital. Sisters were in attendance from houses in New Orleans, Chicago, and Evansville, as well as members of Jane's family, some of her classmates from St. Mary's nursing class of 1948, and the Milwaukee Ladies of Charity.

Many Daughters who were missioned to St. Mary's Hospital from the middle 1950s through the 1980s knew Jane and her family. Jane served in various nursing administrative roles during these years. Her husband, Carl, also served as the Director of Security at the Hospital in the 1980s, after his retirement from the Milwaukee Police Department.

Jane was honored as an Affiliate because of her response to God's call to become a Lady of Charity and the leadership she provided to recruit and retain Ladies of Charity for the future. She served as president for eight years and her daughter, Cathey Onopa, and her neighbor, Adele Eklund, served an additional four years as co-presidents. Today, there over 100 Ladies of Charity, including younger members. Jane continues to serve with the Ladies and her energy in initiatives for the future is contagious. Welcome and Congratulations on your Affiliation.

House of Charity, New Orleans, LA.

by Sr. Renee Rose

January 4, 2010, the House of Charity New Orleans, La., became a reality after the Archdiocese of New Orleans leased the former rectory of the closed Incarnate Word parish to the Sisters of Charity Federation. The idea of having a House of Charity came from the regular meetings of the Formation Committee of the Federation. It was brewing for some years, but began to take hold during the Federation Service trips to New Orleans after Katrina.

The House of Charity is a community of three sisters that open the House for groups of sisters and volunteers that come to do service for the poor in New Orleans. The House is organized to have as many as 15 volunteers at one time. Most sleep on air mattresses to allow for the greatest flexibility in accommodations.

Sr. Claire Regan, SC Sr. Monica Gundler, SC Sr. Renee Rose, DC

The three sisters who live in the House have formed a local community; they are from three different Charity communities. Sister Monica is a Sister of Charity of Cincinnati; Sister Claire is a Sister of Charity of St. Vincent DePaul of New York and Sister Renee Rose, a Daughter of Charity East Central Province. The primary ministry is welcoming volunteers into the House, especially those referred by or accompanied by Sisters of Charity of the Federation communities. The sisters provide a continental breakfast, a place for group and individual prayer and group refectio, and a hot evening meal. Most of the volunteers are working with other organizations, such as Catholic Charities Helping Hands and the St. Bernard Project, to rebuild homes so families can move back into them.

The sisters are networking and participate in civic and parish communities. One sister has been working with Catholic Charities, helping with victims of the oil spill; she drives 50 miles each way, three days a week. Another sister is helping parishes with the Just Faith Program.

VISIONING for the MISSION UPDATE

by Sr. Theresa Peck

The Visioning for Mission Steering Committee continues to round out the charge for the reconfiguring of the four provinces scheduled for July 2011.

We are hiring staff for the finance, legal and properties activity and, to date, we have hired Tom Beck as our Chief Financial Officer, Kristin Parshay as our Controller, and five others. We also selected the accounting software, IT solution, and are developing the position descriptions for the rest of the staff. It is detailed work, but will save the energy needed to get started in July as a new Province. The leadership will be able to concentrate on the Mission Plan to be developed.

The first Consultation for Visitatrix went out in September and we are now in the second stage of our consultation process. We know you will all be praying for the Daughters, as we continue to move forward toward a future full of hope!

Plans are underway for our celebration in July for the Baltimore Gathering, which will be held July 29 – August 1, 2011, at which we will witness the installation of the new leadership team. Our theme is “Uniting for the Mission”, following on the “Visioning for the Mission” we have been undertaking.

There will be formal communications sent to you when there are some announcements which need to be made to you and to all the members of the Vincentian Family, as well as the Bishops, Ascension Health and other colleagues and peers in our ministries. In the meantime, we know we can count on your prayers and good wishes.

2010 — The 350th Anniversary Year of the Death of St. Vincent and St. Louise

Members of the Vincentian family are taking the occasion of the 350th Anniversary Year of the death of St. Vincent and St. Louise to revitalize our spirit and explore the treasure of our common founders. We are challenged by the words of St. Vincent: "The love of God is inventive to infinity."

From Milwaukee, Wis.

Vincentian Family Members who attended the dedication of the new Columbia St. Mary's hospital on Saturday, September 25, and the Mass on Sunday, September 26, 2010, were also reminded by chief celebrant, Auxiliary Bishop Richard J. Sklba of the Diocese of Milwaukee, that the Vincentian Family would be concluding the 350th Anniversary of the death of St. Vincent and St. Louise. It is very fitting that the dedication of the new hospital, Columbia St. Mary's, comes at the conclusion of celebrating the death of the co-founders of the Daughters of Charity, who founded the first hospital in the State in 1848. Both St. Vincent and St. Louise witnessed in their collaboration to found diverse works on behalf of the sick and poor. In the dedication ceremony, water poured into a bowl by staff from both St. Mary's and Columbia Hospitals symbolized the continuance of a collaboration that has brought about this new hospital that will continue to serve the sick and the needy of Milwaukee for decades.

Celebrating the Dedication of the New Columbia St. Mary's Hospital Milwaukee

From Indianapolis, Ind.

The Sisters of St. Vincent's, Indianapolis, hosted a major conference on Human Trafficking on April 12, 2010. Motivated by actions that were included in the local community's Common Plan for 2009/10, the Sisters undertook something they had never done before as a local house – they planned and implemented a gathering of various professions and publics throughout the Indianapolis area. Their efforts were rewarded by an audience of 89 individuals, during two sessions on April 12 and 100 high school students in a separate session on April 13.

The Sisters called on the talents of Sister Mary Jo Swift, D.C., and Ann Delaney, as their conference speakers.

Sister Mary Jo works full time, through Catholic Charities of San Antonio, in the ministry of human traffic advocate, giving educational guidance to groups throughout the county to awaken the awareness of our society to the realities of the horror of this 21st Century form of slavery. Ann Delaney is the Executive Director of the Indianapolis Julian Center, a domestic violence shelter that has been selected to work with the Department of Justice in providing a safe-haven for individuals who had been rescued from trafficking. Sister Mary Jo began with a global and national understanding of the issues involved in human trafficking. Then, Ms. Delaney spoke of issues facing the local community in Indianapolis, sharing what is current in State Law, as well as efforts being undertaken through coalitions and advocacy groups at a local level. It was heartwarming to know that Indianapolis is very active in addressing the issues and problems and has lots of grassroots efforts in place.

Response from the audience was amazing as individuals volunteered to join the various coalitions; invited Sister Mary Jo to return to speak to other groups around the community; and wanted to form a speakers' bureau to take the message throughout our community.

From San Antonio, Texas

The Vincentian Family of San Antonio gathered for a 350th Anniversary Mass of Thanksgiving on September 11 at St. Vincent de Paul Church in San Antonio. The retired Bishop Flanagan and Rev. Kevin Fausz, CM, concelebrated. Over 220 members of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Ladies of Charity, Affiliates, Daughters of Charity, Former DCs, co-workers and collaborators celebrated the Vincentian charism alive in San Antonio! The reception was catered by a lay Vincentian who teaches cooking in a homeless shelter.

From Little Rock, Ark.

Sixty members of the Vincentian Family gathered at St. Ann's Parish in North Little Rock on August 7 to mark the 350th Anniversary with a celebration of Vincentian heritage. During breakfast, a band of Lay Vincentian Misioneros led the group in song and dance. Representatives of the branches: Congregation of the Mission, Daughters of Charity, Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Ladies of Charity, and Lay Vincentian Misioneros shared the history of their branch and their current ministries in Ark. Fr. Tom Stehlik, CM, presided at the Eucharist at noon, and Deacon Arnoldo Hernandez, CM, preached on the Beatitudes. A fajita lunch was followed by prayer, a video on Vincentian Family members in service, and speakers on "love in action."

From Texas

August 25, 2010, the Daughters of Charity of Waco hosted the local Affiliates for an evening of prayer and fellowship. Reverend Joseph Geaney, Jr., Pastor of St. Mary of the Assumption Church, celebrated a mass in the chapel at Providence Hospital, followed by a delicious dinner and time for sharing and prayerful fellowship. It was a lovely Vincentian family evening.

September 26, 2010, the St. Vincent de Paul Society of the Austin Diocese hosted a celebration for the Ladies of Charity, the Daughters of Charity and other members of the Vincentian Family at St. Anthony Marie Claret Church in Kyle, Texas. The Most Reverend Bishop Joseph Vasquez, Bishop of Austin, celebrated a mass at 10 a.m. Mass was followed by a catered luncheon for over 200 people and the festivities were concluded with a prayer of recommitment and a Vincentian promise to be faithful to our ministry, our spirituality, friendship and service to our poor and suffering brothers and sisters. It was a very meaningful gathering for the Central Texas Vincentian Family.

September 29, 2010, the Daughters of Charity and Providence Hospital in Waco provided a free meal of vegetable soup, bread, salad and fruit, for over 2,400 staff members, doctors, →

Vincenian Family 350th Anniversary Celebration Offers Praise and Thanksgiving — Members Challenged to Practice Charity that is Personal, Practical and Political

by Sr. Julie Cutter and F. Dale Whitten, Affiliate

On the weekend of August 21 – 22, 2010, members of the 13 branches [see sidebar] of the Vincenian Family of the Saint Louis, Mo., and Belleville, Ill., area, gathered to pray, work and celebrate the 350th Anniversary of the deaths of Saint Vincent de Paul and Saint Louise de Marillac. On Saturday, August 21, over 150 members gathered for service projects to see the face of Christ in those persons who are poor and needy. The Day of Service was followed by an apostolic reflection at each of the 16 service sites. On Sunday, August 22, over 600 members of the Vincenian Family gathered at the Cathedral Basilica of Saint Louis to thank God for his many blessings. The Most Reverend Robert J. Carlson, Archbishop of Saint Louis, presided at the afternoon liturgy and The Reverend G. Gregory Gay, CM, Superior General of the Congregation of the Mission, and the Daughters of Charity, delivered the homily. Fr. Gregory emphasized that the mission of charity calls all members of the Vincenian Family to practice charity that is personal, practical and political. The Archdiocesan Choir, composed of representatives from 40 parishes, provided music under the direction of Dr. John Romeri. The offertory collection of almost $3,000 will benefit a Haiti Reforestation Project of ZAFÈN – a joint micro-finance project of the worldwide Vincenian Family, Fonkoze, DePaul University and the Haitian Hometown Association Resource Group. Following the liturgy, a reception was catered by Peace Meals of East Saint Louis and members of the Vincenian Marian Youth from Southeast Missouri. The Day of Service and the Anniversary Liturgy were planned and coordinated by the Saint Louis Area Vincenian Family Committee.

Among those present were three bishops, 27 priests, parishioners, students, personnel and clientele from the north, east, south and west, some traveling six hours to arrive. The Ami aboriginal tribe led the entrance procession with dance and song. Men of the Bunun tribe made up the choir, while the Paiwan tribe graced the offertory procession with gifts from their farms. Preceding the Mass were performances of the aborigines, a skit presented by the Vincenian high school student of Sz Hu, songs, and presentations of awards to lay Vincenians.

VINCENTIAN SPIRITUALITY RETREAT — OCTOBER 28-31, 2010

Mater Dei Provincialate, Evansville, Indiana

by Tom Conklin

Four days of prayer, talks, private reflection, liturgy, mealtime conversation, and even some humor provided a needed respite and opportunity for growth in the Vincentian spirit for 11 participants in the Fourth Annual Vincentian Spirituality Retreat held at Mater Dei October 28 - 31. Topics for talks provided by Fr. Bill Hartenbach, CM, included: Relationship to Self, God's Presence in Our Hungers, God's Presence in Our Hopes, and God's Presence in Our Living. They were woven together with insights into St. Vincent's life and spirituality and practical applications in today's world. Two powerful videos were viewed and discussed. "Charity's Saint - Vincent de Paul" offered a historical perspective on the life of Vincent and his call to serve the poor. "Where God Left His Shoes" provided a moving and compelling portrayal of the realities of urban homelessness faced by a young family. Participants left rested, refreshed, and grateful, as they returned to their homes, families, work, and ministries. We were also mindful of four of our registrants who had to cancel, due to last minute demands and illnesses. Please hold in prayer our Affiliates, Barbara Moore, recovering from heart surgery, Ruth Lang, and Mary Ann McDonnell.
